courtney BANGHART

Head Coach ▪ 7th Season

When North Carolina selected Courtney Banghart as the fourth head coach in women's basketball program history, the University added another outstanding leader to its family of championship-winning head coaches. Banghart, honored by Fortune Magazine in 2015 as one of the World's 50 Greatest Leaders, was announced as the Tar Heel head coach on April 30, 2019.

Following the 2024-25 season, her sixth at UNC and 18th as a head coach, her career record stands at 379-167. Carolina is 125-64 in Banghart's tenure.

"Courtney Banghart has proven she knows how to lead students to wins both on and off the court," Carolina Director of Athletics Bubba Cunningham said upon her hiring. "She believes in developing strong character and a championship mentality, in recruiting and graduating players who want to serve their community, and in building relationships in and outside of her program. She is an outstanding addition to our department and University, and I am pleased to welcome Courtney and her family to our Carolina family."

She has led the Tar Heels to five consecutive NCAA Tournament appearances, including two Sweet 16 trips in 2022 and 2025. Earning a No. 3 seed this past season, UNC welcomed NCAA Tournament basketball to Carmichael Arena for the first time since 2015. Carolina rattled off two wins at home to advance to the regional semifinals for the 19th time in school history.

In 2019-20, she opened her UNC career with eight consecutive wins, the best start to a season since 2014-15. The 2020-21 team finished 13-11 in an abbreviated Covid season, reaching the NCAA Tournament in San Antonio, Texas.

In 2022-23, the Tar Heels finished 22-11, reaching the NCAA Tournament second round. They were ranked as high as sixth in the AP poll during the season, the program's highest spot since 2014-15. The 2023-24 Tar Heels finished 20-13, playing in the NCAA Tournament for the fourth year in a row and advancing to at least the second round for the third year in a row.

The 2024-25 season proved to be a high for Banghart and the Tar Heels with 29 wins for the most in a season since 2012-13. Carolina was a force on the road, with a 9-0 start for its best on the road since 2005-06, while an 8-0 start away in ACC games marked a new best in program history. Four Tar Heels also picked up ACC honors, including one first team honoree, two second team and one all-freshman.

Banghart has led her team to the NCAA Tournament in 13 of the past 15 tournaments.

Banghart was the 2015 Naismith National Coach of the Year after leading Princeton to a 30-0 regular season record. In 12 years as a head coach there, she amassed a 254-103 (.711) record, including a 137-31 (.816) mark against Ivy League opponents. Under her direction, the Tigers won seven Ivy League titles and reached the NCAA Tournament eight times. She accomplished all while emphasizing academic pursuit, service, and leadership.

Born and raised in New Hampshire, Banghart was a three-year starter at Dartmouth College, where she graduated with a bachelor's degree in neuroscience in 2000. She was a two-time first-team All-Ivy selection and owns the Ivy League record with 273 career three-pointers. In 1999, she earned the Ed Seitz Award as the top three-point specialist in the nation after connecting on a program-best 97 three-pointers.

After graduating from Dartmouth, she worked at Episcopal High School in Alexandria, Va., as the girls' athletic director and head coach of the girls' basketball and tennis teams — an experience, she says, that taught her the transformative power of teaching and coaching. She returned to her alma mater as an assistant coach from 2003-07 and won two Ivy League championships during her tenure as Dartmouth's recruiting coordinator. She also used that time to earn a master's degree in writing and leadership development.

In 2007, Banghart took over a Princeton program that had never played in the NCAA Tournament and transformed her team into a perennial NCAA participant that re-wrote both the Ivy League and Princeton record books. Over a dozen seasons, she helped the Tigers to a plethora of team and conference firsts and bests, including:

- The top regular-season record and longest winning streak across Division I, both women and men at 30-0 in 2015
- The highest NCAA tournament seed (No. 8) in program history
- The Ivy league's only at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament
- The highest AP poll and coaches poll ranking (No. 13) in program history
- The first ranking in the AP preseason poll in Ivy League women's basketball history

She also helped develop two AP and WBCA honorable-mention All-Americas, 20 first-team All-Ivy picks, nine second-team selections, two honorable mention recipients, three CoSIDA Academic All-Americas and 10 Winter Academic All-Ivy selections. She coached three Princeton players who advanced to the WNBA, including the program's first WNBA draft pick in 2018.

Joanne Aluka-White joined the North Carolina women's basketball staff in 2019 as an assistant coach, following seven seasons with the Charlotte 49ers. The 2025-26 campaign will be her seventh as a Tar Heel and second as the associate head coach.

Aluka-White was the associate head coach on the Charlotte women's basketball staff for two seasons, receiving the promotion before the 2017-18 campaign after serving previously as an assistant coach for the 49ers. She played a vital role on head coach Cara Consuegra's staff, overseeing the development of the post players.

Aluka-White has participated in several professional development and coaching seminars through the years, most recently the inaugural Next Chair event on the Charlotte campus in May 2019. She also has been selected for the NCAA Minority Coaches Forum for Basketball in Charlottesville, Virginia during the 2017 and 2018 springs. In June 2013, she was chosen to attend the Achieving Coaching Excellence (ACE) program, which is designed for minority coaches. It was funded by the NCAA and the Advocates for Athletic Equity (AAE).

Prior to coming to Charlotte, Aluka-White spent from 2006-07 through 2011-12, as an assistant coach at FIU. During her six years with the Panthers, the program reached the 2011 and 2012 Sun Belt Tournament semifinals and earned an at-large bid to the postseason, competing in the WNIT for the first time since 2005-06. It capped the school's first 20-win campaign in the last 10 years and their second-straight 10-win Sun Belt record.

Aluka-White was a successful collegiate basketball player at Middle Tennessee. The Ohio Valley Conference Freshman of the Year in 1999, she scored more than 1,000 points during her career as a Blue Raider. She was voted team captain and helped MTSU capture an OVC Tournament championship, an NCAA Tournament ticket and two WNIT berths.

The culmination of her playing career came with her selection to Nigeria's national team and a trip to the 2004 Summer Olympics in Athens, Greece. Nigeria won the first Olympic game in the country's history. She also saw playing time professionally in Europe prior to the Olympics, and while in Portugal, she led her team to the 2004 National Cup final.

Her playing career continued after the Olympics, when she returned the U.S. and played for the NWBL's Dallas Fury, where she was coached by Hall of Fame player Nancy Lieberman.

The Augusta, Ga., native graduated from Middle Tennessee in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in behavioral science. She stayed at MTSU to complete her master's degree in 2003 in health and human performance with a concentration in sport management.

Aluka-White and her husband Fred White are the parents of twins, Daniel and Gabrielle.

Cory McNeill joined the UNC women's basketball staff as an assistant coach in May of 2024 following five years at East Carolina. He brings to Carolina a wealth of experience in the collegiate ranks.

McNeill has made an impact at every stop. At ECU, he served as Associate Head Coach on Head Coach Kim McNeill's staff and was part of a resurgence in the program, including a conference championship and NCAA Tournament appearance in 2023.

Prior to that, he spent three seasons at Hartford, helping Hawks improve their win total in each season, culminating in a 23-11 mark in 2018-19 and the program's first appearance in the WNIT since 2013.

At Virginia, McNeill served on Head Coach Joanne Boyle's staff, helping the Cavaliers to a 90-71 record and three WNIT appearances, including back-to-back berths in 2015 and 2016.

McNeill served as an assistant coach at Georgetown from 2007-11. The Hoyas earned back-to-back NCAA Tournament berths for the first time in program history in 2010 and 2011 and made a trip to the Sweet 16 in 2011. In addition, with McNeill's prowess as a defensive coach, Georgetown became one of the nation's leaders in forced turnovers and defensive field goal percentage.

His coaching career began at Coppin State. In five seasons, he led the Eagles to two Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference (MEAC) Championships, three regular-season MEAC Championships, two NCAA Tournament berths and a WNIT appearance.
McNeill played college basketball at Morgan State, where he received his bachelor's degree in finance in 2002. He earned a master's degree in public administration in 2005 from the University of Baltimore.

He is the father of 12-year-old twins, Gabby and Cayden McNeill.

"It is an honor to join the UNC women's basketball staff," McNeill said. "I'm extremely excited to step foot in Chapel Hill and begin my journey as a Tar Heel. I'm looking forward to immediately contributing my experience with recruiting, player development and assisting Coach Banghart with my basketball acumen.

"I want to thank Coach Banghart for the opportunity to work alongside her and the staff in continuing the legacy of this storied program in the ACC and nationally."

Katherine Bixby enters her second season on the UNC women's basketball staff as an assistant coach heading into the 2025-26 campaign, boasting years of experience throughout the collegiate ranks.

"Throughout an extensive search process, Katherine's breadth of experience proved invaluable in an ever-changing landscape in college athletics," Banghart said. "A former head coach, Katherine brings value to so many key areas. She has served as a lead recruiter, she has developed players from all positional groups, and she's been a strategist on both sides of the ball. She is eager to be a teammate and to help further elevate this program and we are grateful to have her aboard."

Bixby, who brings more than 15 years of coaching experience to Chapel Hill, spent one season at Loyola of Maryland, where she helped engineer a program turnaround, with the Greyhounds going from 10-21 in 2022-23 to 16-15 last season. There she was part of the 2024 Patriot League Staff of the Year as Loyola registered its first winning season since 2010-11.

Prior to that, she spent six seasons as the head coach at Johns Hopkins, leading the Blue Jays to five-straight seasons of 17 or more wins, including back-to-back 20-win campaigns. Johns Hopkins won the regular-season conference title in 2023, and Bixby was the Centennial Conference Coach of the Year in 2019.

Throughout her time at JHU she maintained a standard of academic excellence, with her teams ranking in the WBCA National Academic Honor Roll four times.

She served as head coach at Dickinson College from 2014-17, including an 18-win season in 2017, and has been an assistant coach at Ithaca College. Her experience also includes a range of camps and clinics.

A graduate of Ithaca College, she was inducted into the school's hall of fame last fall for her basketball and lacrosse performance. She earned a Master of Arts in Teaching from Ithaca in 2012.

"I am thrilled to be starting a new chapter in the women's basketball program at the University of North Carolina," Bixby said. "Thank you to Coach Banghart for this incredible opportunity to join the Tar Heel community. I look forward to bringing my experience to this vibrant culture and working alongside superb colleagues and student-athletes."

2019-20	North Carolina	Director of Player Development
2018-19	Davidson	Director of Player Development
2013-17	Trinity International	Assistant Coach

A familiar face returned to Carmichael Arena in August of 2023 as Daniel Metzelfeld joined the UNC women's basketball staff as Director of Scouting and Video Operations and Assistant Coach. He was later promoted to assistant coach prior to the start of the 2023-24 season.

Metzelfeld was also part of coach Courtney Banghart's first staff at UNC, serving as Director of Player Personnel, Development and Recruiting Operations for the 2019-20 season.

In between his stops in Chapel Hill, Metzelfeld spent three seasons as an assistant coach with the women's basketball team at Davidson. During his time with the Wildcats, the team achieved its highest number of wins since joining the Atlantic 10 (18 wins in 2021-22) and made the program's fifth overall appearance in the postseason, playing three games in the Women's Basketball Invitational. Metzelfeld coached mainly the Wildcat forwards and wings while also focusing on recruiting. He assisted in developing several players who received A-10 All-Rookie Team and All-Conference awards.

He also spent the 2018-19 season at Davidson as Director of Player Development.

Metzelfeld founded Train University Basketball and worked as a trainer and coach for All In Athletics in Highland Park, Ill., where he worked with junior, high, high school, college and professional clients.

He got his start in college coaching as an assistant women's basketball coach at his alma mater, Trinity International University, from 2013-17. While at Trinity he helped start and coach All In Athletics, the largest grassroots basketball program in the country from 2014-18.

After beginning his playing career at Indiana University East, Metzelfeld spent his final three years as a standout guard for Trinity International in Deerfield, Ill. As a senior, Metzelfeld was named team captain while leading his team in scoring at 14.6 points per game. His play earned him Chicagoland Collegiate Athletic Conference Honorable Mention as well as NCCAA All-Region team and the team's Most Outstanding Player Award. As an undergraduate, he coached AAU girls' basketball with Full Package Athletics.

A native of Indianapolis, Metzelfeld graduated from Trinity International in 2013 with a degree in athletic training. He went on to earn a master's degree in administrative studies with a concentration in sports management from Missouri State in 2016.

2023-25	North Carolina	Graduate Assistant

Lexi Weger, was named as an assistant coach with Carolina women's basketball following two seasons as a graduate assistant.

"I am deeply humbled and honored to be named an assistant coach of the North Carolina's Women's Basketball program. Having served as graduate assistant and then video coordinator during these past two years I've experienced, firsthand, the level of commitment from everyone in this program to building on a legacy of excellence. I'm grateful for every opportunity that has come my way and am ready to be a part of pursuing bold milestones and reaching new heights," said Weger. "To step into my first assistant coaching role with this caliber of program is a privilege I do not take lightly. I want to thank Coach Banghart for her trust and mentorship. I look forward to working alongside the extraordinary coaches and staff and with this immensely talented team that is Carolina Basketball."

"Promoting Lexi was an easy and unanimous decision for our staff. Her "figure it out" mindset, diligent and thoughtful eye for scouting, and ability to use film as an effective teaching tool have already made a significant impact," said Banghart. "Add to that, her relentless work ethic and reliability, and it's clear why she's earned this coveted role."

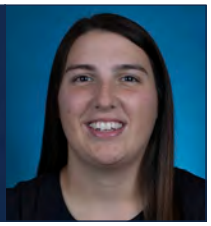
She joined the staff in 2023 after graduating from Princeton University with a degree in psychology. Weger played basketball at Princeton, where she was a four-time Ivy League champion. Her senior thesis was titled "Yes, Coach! Examining Athlete Willingness to Receive Critical Feedback from their Head Coach."

Weger was elevated from graduate assistant to video coordinator in June of 2025, after earning her Masters in Sport Administration from Carolina.

During her undergraduate experience, Weger worked for Princeton's Sports Marketing department and was the president of the school's Athlete Ally chapter. During her summers, she interned with the NBA as an International Commercial Strategy & Development Intern, as well as with NBC Sports Group, where she served as a Digital Production Assistant for the Tokyo Summer Olympics.

liz ROBERTS

General Manager ▪ 3rd Season



THE ROBERTS FILE
HOMETOWN	CHAPEL HILL, N.C.
ALMA MATER	NORTH CAROLINA (2020)

A proud UNC alumna and former student-athlete, Roberts played four seasons with the Tar Heels from 2016-2020. Roberts currently serves at General Manager/Special Assistant to the Head Coach, bringing a deep passion for Tar Heel athletics and Carolina Women's Basketball. She is the direct point of contact for all external affairs, overseeing NIL, fundraising, strategic partnerships, alumni relations, and staff operations. She also supports the coaching staff in recruiting efforts and roster management.

"I've been in coaching and teaching for a long time, and she is just part of the top 0.1 percent in terms of her quality level as a teammate and her dedication to the journey," Banghart said.

Roberts, who is from Chapel Hill, walked onto the team as a freshman and earned a spot on the 2016-17 roster. She played in seven games that year, seven as a sophomore and two as a junior, providing depth at the guard spot. Prior to her senior season, coach Courtney Banghart rewarded Roberts with a scholarship. As a senior in 2019-20, Roberts appeared in 13 games.

She was inducted into Phi Beta Kappa honorary society, earned Dean's List honors each semester, and was honored as a Top 10 Scholar-Athlete, recognizing the top grade point averages among UNC's senior student-athletes.

She went on to complete her master's in sport administration in May of 2022 from UNC-CH, prior to earning her first role as Director of Recruiting Management and Student-Athlete Engagement. She was promoted to General Manager/Special Assistant to the Head Coach in June of 2023.

THE MURRAY FILE
HOMETOWN	COLUMBIA, S.C.
ALMA MATER	NORTH CAROLINA (2021)

Former Tar Heel team captain Jaelynn Murray joined the staff in July of 2023. She serves as Assistant Director of Video and Recruiting Operations and fills a wide variety of roles around the program.

"Bringing Jaelynn back to our women's basketball family is such a huge win for our program," UNC coach Courtney Banghart said. "She brings integrity, passion, and consistent positive energy, no matter the task or the day.

"She's been a great player, a great teammate, and a consistent winner in the locker room. Jae loves Carolina and will work tirelessly to help us continue to move this program forward."

A 2022 graduate, Murray spent a year as an intern with UNC's Rams Club, working as part of the Communications team, before joining the women's basketball staff.

A forward from Columbia, S.C., Murray majored in Information Science, earning her undergraduate degree in May of 2021. She took a fifth season with the team while earning a master's degree in Educational Innovation, Technology and Entrepreneurship through the UNC School of Education.

"I'm so honored to join the staff and grateful to Coach Banghart for bringing me back to Carmichael," Murray said. "My time at the Rams Club was extremely valuable and I really enjoyed seeing another part of the Athletic Department, but my heart is with our women's basketball program. Being part of the staff is really a dream for me, and I'm excited to learn from everyone around me and to do my part as this program continues to climb."

Murray is the second former player on the staff, joining former teammate Liz Roberts, who currently serves as the team's General Manager.

THE GREENMAN FILE
HOMETOWN	BLACKSBURG, VA.
ALMA MATER	EMORY & HENRY (1988)

Shellie Greenman was named the director of basketball operations for North Carolina women's basketball in June of 2024, bringing over 20 years of experience in collegiate athletics to the Tar Heels. Greenman most recently served in the same capacity at Clemson for six seasons.

Prior to her stint at Clemson, Greenman spent time at North Florida as the director of basketball operations. Prior to her time with the Ospreys, Greenman was in the SEC for four seasons at Florida as a program assistant. With the Gators, she assisted the coaching staff in recruiting, planning and scouting during a pair of 20-win seasons for the Gators.

Before arriving in Gainesville, Greenman's times in women's basketball spanned across multiple stops as an assistant coach at Jacksonville University, Western Carolina, Miami University (OH), Tennessee-Chattanooga and Virginia Tech.

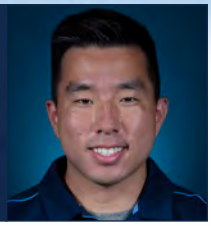
Hailed as a prolific recruiter, bringing in a top-30 class while at Virginia Tech and signing three conference rookie of the year student-athletes.

A graduate from Emory and Henry College with a bachelor's degree in health and physical education, Greenman then went on to earn her master's in 1990 at Virginia Tech.

A four-year letterwinner in basketball at Emory and Henry, Greenman led her team to the ODAC Conference championship in 1988, as she was named to the All-Tournament team.

andrew GRABER

Director of Sports Performance • 3rd Season



THE GRABER FILE
HOMETOWN	SIOUX FALLS, S.D.
ALMA MATER	NORTHWESTERN COLLEGE (2019)

After two seasons on the UNC women's basketball support staff, Andrew Graber was promoted in July of 2023 to the role of Head Strength and Conditioning Coach. He directs, designs and implements all strength and conditioning programming for the Tar Heel women's basketball program.

"I'm proud of our program and the women in it that we were able to attract such a talented applicant pool," UNC women's basketball coach Courtney Banghart said upon Graber's promotion. "Sport science is the future of athletic performance training and Andrew is so versed in the software and the application of it. He has a national championship as a lead strength coach, and he has run the sport science programming for numerous sports teams. He will help with feedback – and feeding forward – as we develop our daily, weekly, and monthly plans together to put our student-athletes in the best possible position for success.

Graber came to UNC in July of 2021. He has worked with women's basketball as assistant strength & conditioning coach since then and also has coached track and field, rowing and women's lacrosse, which won an NCAA Championship in 2022. Additionally, he has coordinated sport science for all of UNC's Olympic sport programs.

Before coming to UNC, Graber earned his M.S. in Leadership Education: Sports Management from Winona State University in Winona, Minn. While there, he also served as a graduate assistant strength and conditioning coach working with the football, men's basketball, women's soccer, gymnastics and women's tennis teams.

He earned his B.A. in Exercise Science with a career concentration in strength and conditioning from Northwestern College in Orange City, Iowa. As an undergraduate at NWC, he interned for three years with the strength and conditioning staff, overseeing programing for the cheerleading and track and field teams.

A native of Sioux Falls, S.D., Graber is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist through the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

"I am incredibly excited and thankful to have the opportunity to be part of this program," Graber said. "Coach Banghart, the staff and the student-athletes are all pursuing success on and off the court, and I look forward to working with a program that is proactive and constantly looking for ways to integrate sport science with performance. We strive to always be cutting edge in our sport performance program and the way it impacts and supports our student-athletes."

"Working hand-in-hand with Strength & Conditioning as part of our Sports Performance team, I'm excited to welcome Andrew to this new role," said Jodi Schneider, UNC's head athletic trainer. "Having worked with him for the past two years, I have seen first-hand not only the dedication and enthusiasm he brings, but his extensive sports science knowledge and expertise. I look forward to continuing our collaboration to provide the highest level of care and training to our student-athletes."

jodi SCHNEIDER

Head Athletic Trainer • 6th Season

THE SCHNEIDER FILE
HOMETOWN	BAY VILLAGE, OHIO
ALMA MATER	MICHIGAN STATE (2005)

Jodi Schneider joined the UNC Sports Medicine staff in September of 2020. She serves as the Head Athletic Trainer for the Tar Heel women's basketball team and also works as part of the UNC Campus Health staff.

Schneider came to Chapel Hill after nine years at Princeton, where she worked with the women's basketball team and the men's and women's cross country teams.

"I couldn't be more excited for our program as a whole, and our student-athletes in particular, to be adding Jodi to our team," said coach Courtney Banghart. "I worked with Jodi for many years at Princeton. She has so much experience, and the trust and adoration she earned from our student-athletes was impactful to witness and was critical to their physical, mental, and emotional health. She is an elite communicator, a thoughtful listener, and a skilled clinician. Her work will ensure that our student-athletes are at their best and that our sports performance team works in synergy for our program's continued growth."

Schneider is a 2005 graduate of Michigan State, where she majored in kinesiology with an emphasis in athletic training. She earned a master's degree in human physiology and sports medicine from the University of Oregon in 2007.

While at working toward her degree at Oregon, Schneider served as the head athletic trainer at Thurston High School in Springfield, Ore., for a year before joining the Ducks' athletic training staff as a graduate assistant for football for the 2006-07 school year.

She worked at the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo., in 2007-08 before returning to Michigan State for one year as an intern athletic trainer for the Spartans' rowing teams. Schneider worked at Maine with the softball and football teams from 2009-11 before moving to Princeton.

Schneider taught at Oregon, Michigan State and Maine, and she holds certifications in CPR and first aid as well as the SASTM soft tissue technique. A certified athletic trainer since 2006, she has been a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association since 2001.

"I am thrilled at this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to join the UNC sports medicine staff," Schneider said. "Not only is this a department with such a storied history of success, but also unparalleled commitment and investment in student-athletes' wellness and performance. I could also not be more excited for the chance to again work with Courtney Banghart as she leads the Tar Heels. I was fortunate during our shared time at Princeton to work with and develop a relationship with Courtney, as she not only demands the best of herself, she passionately cultivates the same drive as a steward of her staff and program and is unwavering in her commitment to her players.

2024-25 SEASON REVIEW

▪ North Carolina Women's Basketball made many statements throughout the 2024-25 season, as the Tar Heels took a huge jump forward in the sixth season of the Courtney Banghart era.

▪ Recording 29 wins, the Tar Heels earned their most victories in a single-season since the 2012-13 campaign and the best mark under Banghart.

▪ Earning the right to host NCAA Tournament games in Chapel Hill for the first time since 2015, Carolina made the most of it with wins over Oregon State and West Virginia in the first and second rounds. Securing back-to-back wins in Carmichael Arena led UNC to its 19th Sweet 16 and its second under Banghart.

▪ Not only did the Tar Heels fight for the opportunity to host postseason basketball in Blue Heaven, Carolina earned a No. 3 seed in the 2025 NCAA Tournament for its best since 2013. The seed also marked the first time the Tar Heels earned a top-four slot since 2015.

▪ Looking back, Carolina's start to the 2024-25 season included many highs including three wins in three days on Paradise Island in the Bahamas to claim the 2024 Battle4Atlantis title. The Tar Heels defeated Ball State, Villanova and Indiana to earn their fourth Multi-Team Event title in the last six seasons and the first since the Phil Knight Invitational in 2022.

▪ The hot streak for the Tar Heels continued, as Carolina took off on an offensive explosion with 119 points against NC Central to mark the third-most in a game in program history. All 12 who stepped on the court for UNC scored a bucket.

▪ Shining when the lights turned bright, the Tar Heels knocked off a then undefeated No. 14 Kentucky team in the 2024 SEC/ACC Challenge, 72-53. It marked Carolina's first non-conference win over a ranked opponent since 2014. The 19-point win over the Wildcats was the largest win against any AP Top-25 opponent since 2020 and its best margin of victory against a top-15 team since 2011.

▪ Breaking out of her shell in the 2024 Jumpman Invitational, freshman Lanie Grant put on a show against Florida in Charlotte by going 5-of-10 from the field en route to 13 points including three made triples. She followed up this performance the next game against Norfolk State with 15 points, while shooting 4-of-6 from beyond the arc. Grant's performance across the week led her to garner honors as the U.S. Basketball Writers Association's Tamika Catchings Freshman of the Week.

▪ Carolina closed 2024 on a strong note, heading down to Coral Gables and coming away with a 69-60 win over Miami for the first time on its home court since 2015. The Tar Heels also opened up road action in conference play with a victory for the second straight season.

▪ In a defensive battle for the ages, the Tar Heels pulled away in an overtime slugfest against Duke from Carmichael Arena to earn the 53-46 overtime win. Toppling the then No. 14 ranked Blue Devils, UNC earned its first overtime win since 2018 and first overall win against a ranked squad since 2020.

▪ The win over the Blue Devils lit a fire within the Tar Heels as they took off on a five-game winning streak. Through 21 games, UNC ran off to its best start in the Courtney Banghart era with 18 wins and for the best since the 2012-13 season.

▪ Heading west to visit two of the Atlantic Coast Conference's newest members, Carolina started off its trip to the Bay Area with a bang by securing a 13-point victory over then No. 19 ranked California.

UNC earned a ranked win on the road in each of the last four seasons. The margin of victory also marked the largest in a ranked road win in the Banghart era and ties for the best in school history.

▪ Showing its grit in a narrow 69-67 win against Stanford on its home court, the Tar Heels did what no other ACC men's or women's program had yet achieved by traveling out West and toppling both Bay Area foes.
Coming away with back-to-back wins on the weekend, the Tar Heels were named the U.S. Basketball Writers Association Team of the Week. The win over Cardinal also pushed Carolina to the 20-win plateau to become the fastest Tar Heel team to do so since 2012-13.

▪Earning its first win over Virginia Tech since 2022 in a 67-62 victory at home, Carolina reached 10-wins in ACC action for the fourth consecutive season and for the 25th time in program history.

▪ Taking it to the wire against No. 10 NC State, Grace Townsend came through big for Carolina at the free throw line as the Tar Heels escaped with the 66-65 win over the Wolfpack.

The program's first top-10 victory of the season pushed it into the top-10 of the AP Poll for the first time since 2022. It also set the first time Carolina made an appearance in the top-10 of the poll in February since 2008-09.

▪ Asserting herself as one of the ACC's top point guards, Reniya Kelly secured ACC Player of the Week honors following back-to-back 20-point performances against Virginia Tech and NC State. Kelly posted a career-high 23 points against the Wolfpack and knocked down a career-best five triples.

▪ Bracing a wintry mix in Syracuse, the Tar Heels snuck out of JMA Wireless Dome carried by its heavy presence in the paint, with a 68-58 win.
Giving the Tar Heels their 24th win on the season, set the best regular season victory mark in the Banghart era. It was also the most in a regular season since 26 in 2012-13.

▪ Overcoming a 12-point deficit to come back and defeat Louisville, 79-75 on its home court, Carolina outgutted the Cardinals in a game where they only led for 58 seconds.
Scoring an ACC-game best 38 points from its reserves, Trayanna Crisp and Lanie Grant each came in off the bench to score a season-high 19 points apiece.

▪ Moving to 9-0 in true road environments, Carolina remained the last undefeated team in the nation on the road and started on its best away stretch since the 2005-06 season.

▪ Four Tar Heels came away with ACC accolades, with Alyssa Ustby, Maria Gakdeng, Reniya Kelly and Lanie Grant garnering honors.

Ustby picked up her second All-ACC First Team nod in her career and also earned a spot on the ACC All-Defensive squad.

Gakdeng earned conference accolades for the second time in her career, finding herself on the All-ACC Second Team.

Lighting it up during her second season in Chapel Hill, Kelly also earned All-ACC Second team honors.

▪ As one of the youngest players in Division I basketball at 17, Grant showed she is one to watch with a spot on the ACC All-Freshman squad.

▪ Earning the fifth overall seed for the 2025 Ally ACC Women's Basketball Tournament in Greensboro, the Tar Heels took care of business in the second round with a 78-71 triumph over Boston College.

▪Playing down to the wire once again against Florida State, Carolina pulled away 60-56 to knock-off the No. 4 seeded Seminoles in the Quarterfinals of the ACC Tournament to advance to the Semifinals for the first time since 2018.

▪ Hearing your name called on Selection Sunday never gets old, as Carolina listened to its name announced as the No. 3 seed in the Birmingham 2 region. With its 32nd tournament appearance, UNC is one of seven schools nationally to make the big dance 32 times or more.

▪ Hosting first and second round games for the 13th time, Carolina welcomed postseason basketball to Carmichael Arena for the first time since 2015.

▪ Taking on the West Coast Conference Champions in No. 14 Oregon State, Carolina turned on the jets in the second half to pull away from the Beavers 70-49 advancing to the second round of the NCAA Tournament for the fourth consecutive season.

▪ Scoring 30 points as a team in the third quarter, Lexi Donarski drained five triples in the quarter en route to a game-high 19 points.

▪ Snagging her ninth rebound of the game in the fourth quarter, Carmichael Arena erupted as Alyssa Ustby earned career rebound No. 1,253 to become the all-time leading rebounder at North Carolina. Defeating the Beavers by a margin of 21 points, the Tar Heels set the mark for the highest NCAA Tournament win in the Courtney Banghart era. The 30 points scored in the third quarter also set the best in a tournament game under Banghart.

▪ Putting on a show in her last game in Carmichael Arena, Alyssa Ustby tallied a personal NCAA Tournament game best with 21 points to carry Carolina over West Virginia 58-47 in the second round.

In a defensive clinic, Carolina limited the Mountaineers to a season-low 47 points sending West Virginia packing as the Tar Heels booked their ticket to a 19th Sweet 16 appearance.

It was the defense speaking volumes through the first and second rounds, the Tar Heels held back-to-back foes under 50 points. It marked the second time in program NCAA Tournament history and for the first time since 1995. Carolina was one of two programs in the NCAA Tournament to hold both opponents through the first two rounds under 50 points. The Tar Heels have held four teams in the NCAA Tournament under 50 points in the Courtney Banghart era.

▪ One of the greatest rivalries in sports added a new chapter as UNC and Duke met once again, this time for the first in an NCAA Tournament game. In a back-and-forth affair, Carolina couldn't muster enough points, eventually falling 47-38 to the Blue Devils.

▪ Graduating Lexi Donarski, Maria Gakdeng, Grace Townsend and Alyssa Ustby, a new era of Tar Heels entered the professional ranks.

The four players each signed contracts to head overseas with Donarski and Gakdeng venturing to Hungary, Townsend to Sweden and Ustby to Italy.

HISTORY AND RECORDS

Timeline

▪ March 1933 – Director of women's physical education, Gladys Beard combines teams from the Pi Beta Phi and Chi Omega sororities with UNC's freshman team to compete in Carolina's first intercollegiate game against Campbell. Campbell triumphs, 36-12.

▪ Jan. 13, 1975 – UNC plays its first official game, defeating NC State, 74-47, in Raleigh. Carolina, under the direction of head coach Angela Lumpkin, would win its first 14 games of that season, finishing 15-3 on the year.

▪ March 13, 1975 – Carolina falls to Belmont, 76-75, in the NWIT, marking the first-ever postseason appearance for the Tar Heels. UNC would defeat Mississippi College, 76-75, a day later for its first postseason win.

▪ Jan. 26, 1976 – Local television station WUNC broadcasts Carolina's 68-58 loss to NC State, the first of many TV appearances for the Tar Heels.

▪ Feb. 9, 1978 – Carolina wins its first game in the inaugural Atlantic Coast Conference tournament. The Tar Heels defeated Wake Forest, 79-62, in Charlottesville, Va.

▪ Dec. 21, 1979 – The Tar Heels defeat No. 20 Mercer, 100-79, the first win over a ranked team in school history.

▪ Jan. 2, 1980 – Just two weeks after recording its first win over a ranked opponent, Carolina notches its first win over a top-10 foe, defeating No. 7 Maryland, 64-62.

▪ March 20, 1980 – UNC defeats Illinois State, 84-73, for its 20th win of the season. Carolina would finish 21-15, the first of 19 20-win campaigns in school history.

▪ Feb. 6, 1983 – In the Associated Press poll released that day, Carolina is ranked No. 20 in the nation, the first national ranking in program history.

▪ March 19, 1983 – Carolina travels to Athens, Ga., for the NCAA Mideast Regional, marking UNC's first NCAA Tournament appearance. The Tar Heels lost to Georgia, 72-70.

▪ March 4, 1984 – Fifth-seeded UNC routs third-seeded NC State, 99-76, to win its first ACC title in Fayetteville, N.C. Tresa Brown was named MVP. She would later earn ACC Player of the Year and Kodak All-America honors.

▪ March 16, 1984 – Carolina hosts its first home NCAA Tournament game, defeating St. John's, 81-79, in overtime.

▪ April 3, 1994 – In perhaps the greatest finish in NCAA Tournament history, Charlotte Smith sinks a three-pointer at the buzzer to give Carolina a 60-59 win over Louisiana Tech and the 1994 NCAA Championship.

▪ Dec. 4, 1994 – Charlotte Smith becomes the second collegiate woman in history to dunk in a game, when she did so against North Carolina A&T.

▪ March 5, 1995 – UNC wins its second straight ACC title, defeating Duke, 85-70, in Rock Hill, S.C.

▪ February 23, 1997 – After slumping to an 8-8 record in 1996, Carolina finishes the ACC regular season campaign 15-1 with a 70-65 win over Virginia. The 15-1 mark in league play is still a program-best.

▪ March 2, 1997 – Carolina tops Clemson, 62-58, in Charlotte, for the fourth ACC title in school history.

▪ Jan. 15, 1998 – Tracy Reid, UNC's first two-time All-America performer, scores 42 points in a 105-100 loss to Virginia. That mark still stands as the school record for points in a game.

▪ Jan. 27, 1998 – Reid is selected seventh overall by the Charlotte Sting in the WNBA Draft, marking the first Carolina player to be drafted into the WNBA. She would earn Rookie of the Year honors later that season.

▪ March 1, 1998 – UNC dominates Clemson, 81-50, in the ACC final, making it four conference titles in five seasons for the Tar Heels.

▪ Feb. 13, 2000 – Carolina defeats Georgia Tech, 85-62, for the 500th victory in program history.

▪ June 13, 2004 – Head coach Sylvia Hatchell is inducted into the Women's Basketball Hall of Fame in Knoxville, Tenn.

▪ Jan 24, 2005 – No. 12 UNC defeats No. 1 Duke, 56-51, marking the first win over a No. 1-ranked team in Carolina history.

▪ March 7, 2005 – After losing to Duke in the ACC Tournament finals for three consecutive seasons, Carolina finally breaks through with a convincing 88-67 victory in Greensboro, N.C., to win the program's sixth conference title.

▪ Jan. 15, 2006 – The Tar Heels knock off NC State, 65-53, giving head coach Sylvia Hatchell her 700th career victory.

▪ Jan. 30, 2006 – UNC ascends to No. 1 in the Associated Press poll for the first time in school history. The Tar Heels would be ranked No. 1 in the coaches' poll a day later, the first time they had topped the coaches' poll since the end of the 1994 season.

▪ March 5, 2006 – Carolina defeats eventual national champion, Maryland, 91-80, in the ACC Tournament final, marking the third time in school history that the Tar Heels had won back-to-back league crowns.

▪ March 20, 2006 – After a 12-year drought, the Tar Heels advance to the Final Four with an 89-70 win over Tennessee in the NCAA Cleveland Region final. Camille Little and Ivory Latta were named to the all-region team.

▪ March 4, 2007 – UNC wins its eighth ACC title and third in a row with a 60-54 victory over NC State in Greensboro. Ivory Latta is named tournament MVP for the third straight year, marking the first time in league history that a player, male or female, had accomplished that feat.

▪ March 27, 2007 – Carolina advances to its second consecutive Final Four with an 84-72 win over Purdue in the NCAA Dallas Region final.

▪ Nov. 9, 2007 – In the season opener for both teams, UNC defeats North Carolina Central, 109-32, for the largest margin of victory in program history.

▪ Feb. 7, 2008 – Carolina downs Clemson, 79-47, for Sylvia Hatchell's 500th win as head coach of the Tar Heels. Hatchell joins Virginia's Debbie Ryan and NC State's Kay Yow as the only coaches to earn 500 wins at an ACC school.

▪ March 2, 2008 – Carolina defeats Duke, 82-51, in the regular season finale to give the Tar Heels a perfect 14-0 record in ACC play that marked the first undefeated league run in school history.

▪ March 9, 2008 – UNC defeats Duke, 86-73, in the ACC Tournament final, marking the fourth consecutive league crown for the Tar Heels. Seniors Erlana Larkins and LaToya Pringle conclude their careers with a perfect 12-0 record in the ACC Tournament. Larkins is named MVP.

▪ March 17, 2008 – The NCAA bracket is announced and UNC is the No. 1 seed in the New Orleans region, marking the fourth consecutive season in which the Tar Heels were a No. 1 regional seed.

▪ Jan. 11, 2009 – UNC outlasts NC State in overtime, 75-66, to give head coach Sylvia Hatchell her 800th career win.

▪ April 30, 2019 – Courtney Banghart was named the fourth women's basketball coach in Carolina history, following 12 seasons as the winningest coach in program history at Princeton.

▪ Nov. 7, 2019 – In the 2019-20 season opener, the Tar Heels toppled Western Carolina 92-55 to earn Banghart's first win as the head coach for UNC.

▪ March 5, 2021 – Following a tumultuous season due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the Tar Heels earned their 28th overall NCAA Tournament bid in school history and the first under Banghart.

▪ March 22, 2022 – For the 18th time in program history and first since 2015, fifth seeded UNC knocked off fourth seeded host Arizona in Tucson to advance to the Sweet 16.

▪ Nov. 27, 2022 – The Tar Heels knocked off two ranked opponents in No. 18 Oregon and No. 5 Iowa State in Portland to earn the Phil Knight Invitational Title.

▪ March 12, 2023 – Carolina women's basketball heard its name called on Selection Sunday for the 30th time in school history, earning a No. 6 seed and a trip to Columbus, Ohio in the Seattle 3 Region.

▪ Jan. 4, 2024 – Tallying 16 points, 16 rebounds and 10 assists in a win over Syracuse, Alyssa Ustby registered the first triple-double in the history of Carolina women's basketball.

▪ Nov. 23, 2024 – Toppling Ball State 63-52, in the quarterfinals of the Battle4Atlantis, head coach Courtney Banghart earned her 100th win at the helm of the Tar Heels. Carolina went on to claim the trophy on Paradise Island, as Banghart took home a title for the second MTE victory in her stint with the Tar Heels.

▪ March 16, 2025 – Hearing their name on the three-line on Selection Sunday, the Tar Heels were rewarded with the right to host the 1st and 2nd Rounds of the NCAA Tournament from Carmichael Arena. The opportunity marked the 13th time for postseason basketball in Carmichael Arena and first since 2015.

▪ March 24, 2025 – In a defensive battle, UNC stood strong to defend home court in a 58-47 gritty win over West Virginia in the Second Round of the NCAA Tournament. Carolina advanced to its 19th Sweet 16 appearance and its second within the last four seasons.

CARMICHAEL ARENA

▪ The North Carolina faithful have long referred to Carmichael Arena as Blue Heaven and the name certainly fits. Located among the tall pine trees at the heart of the UNC campus, Carmichael has been home to the women's basketball program since its inception.

▪ On Jan. 20, 2003, Carolina drew 10,180 fans for its game against Duke. The sellout crowd marked a new attendance high for the Tar Heels in Carmichael.

▪ Carmichael is named for the late William D. Carmichael Jr., a highly popular figure on campus who served as the university's comptroller, then as its vice president.

▪ The Carolina Men's Basketball program called Carmichael home from 1965 until its move to the Dean E. Smith Center during the 1985-86 season. Under head coach Dean Smith, the Tar Heels compiled a home record of 169-20 at Carmichael.

▪ The women's basketball team has played games at the Smith Center on several occasions and has compiled a 43-10 record there since 1987. The entire 2008-09 season was played there during the Carmichael renovation project and the Tar Heels finished with a home record of 18-1.

▪ In 2004-05, UNC finished 17-0 overall in Chapel Hill with a 12-0 record in Carmichael and 5-0 in the Smith Center to set a program standard for home-court wins in a season.
The 2006-07 squad matched that mark with a 17-1 record in 18 games at Carmichael. The 2007-08 Tar Heels wrapped the year with a record setting 18-0 mark at home. The 82-51 win over Duke stood as the final game in the "old" Carmichael.

▪ Under head coach Courtney Banghart, the Tar Heels have compiled a record of 73-17 at home. It's their best season at home under Banghart came in 2023-24, with a record of 14-2.

Janelle Bailey boasts the most ACC Rookie of the Week honors in Carolina history, collecting the award seven times during the 2017-18 campaign.

RETIRED AND HONORED JERSEYS AT UNC

On Oct. 4, 1994, the Athletic Council of the University of North Carolina adopted a set of criteria for honoring the jerseys of women's basketball players. In order to have her jersey honored and hung in the Carmichael Arena rafters, a player must have been a member of a first-team All-America squad, been a member of an Olympic team as an undergraduate or been selected by the coaches as MVP of a national championship team.

Under these guidelines, the UNC women's basketball program announced the first five honored jerseys in a ceremony on Feb. 5, 1995. They belong to Tresa Brown, Pam Leake, Marsha Mann, Bernadette McGlade and Tonya Sampson. On Feb. 27, 2000, Carolina honored three more, belonging to Sylvia Crawley, Marion Jones and Tracy Reid.

The University's criteria for retiring a jersey, which applies to all UNC varsity athletes, requires a player to be named national player of the year in his or her sport. Only two Tar Heel women's basketball jersey numbers have been retired. Those numbers are 23, by Charlotte Smith, and 12, last worn in 2007 by Ivory Latta. Smith's jersey was retired on Feb. 24, 1996, while Latta saw her likeness in the rafters on Jan. 5, 2008.

CHARLOTTE SMITH - #23

The starting forward for the 1994 NCAA Championship team, Charlotte Smith was ESPN's National Player of the Year for the 1993-94 season.

Smith was named the Most Outstanding Player of the 1994 NCAA Tournament after hitting one of the most dramatic shots in collegiate basketball history. With 0:00.7 left in regulation of the '94 NCAA title game and UNC trailing Louisiana Tech 59-57, Smith drilled the championship-winning three-point basket. She also pulled down a career-high 23 rebounds in that game, setting an NCAA Championship game record and tying the NCAA Tournament record.

As a freshman in 1992, she was named the ACC Rookie of the Year. Smith was named All-ACC and ACC Tournament MVP in both her junior and senior seasons.

A consensus first-team All-America and Naismith Award finalist as a senior in 1994-95, Smith led the ACC in scoring and rebounding, averaging 19.6 points and 10.7 boards per game. She totaled 21 double-doubles in Carolina's 35 games, including a 10-game streak. As a four-year starter for the Tar Heels, she led Carolina in rebounding every year of her career.

On Dec. 4, 1994, against North Carolina A&T State, she became the second woman in collegiate basketball history to dunk in a game.

Smith was the first Tar Heel woman and the third women's player in ACC history to record 2,000 career points and 1,000 career rebounds. Her career total of 2,094 points ranks third in UNC history and eighth in the ACC. Her 1,200 rebounds rank second at UNC and fourth in the ACC.

In addition to her ESPY as Women's Basketball Player of the Year, she received an ESPY for Most Outstanding College Basketball Play of the Year. Smith's honors were given at the 1995 ESPY Awards, recognizing her play in the 1993-94 season.

Smith's Honors: 1995 ESPY Award as ESPN Player of the Year (recognized for 1993-94 season) ▪ First-team All-America by Kodak, The Associate Press and the U.S. Basketball Writers Association in 1995 ▪ Final Four MVP in 1994 ▪ ACC Tournament MVP in 1994 and 1995 ▪ All-ACC and All-ACC Tournament in 1994 and 1995 ▪ ACC Rookie of the Year in 1992 ▪ Fourth in scoring at UNC with 2,094 career points ▪ Second in rebounding at UNC with 1,200 in her career.

IVORY LATTA - #12

Latta's Honors: 2006 ESPN.com, USBWA, Basketball Times and Gballmag.com National Player of the Year • Two-time consensus first-team All-America (2006 and 2007) • Three-time first-team All-ACC • 2006 ACC Player of the Year • ACC Tournament MVP in 2005, 2006 and 2007 • Only player in ACC history to win three straight ACC Tournament MVP awards • Carolina's all-time leading scorer (2,285 points) • Also school record holder in three-pointers, three-point percentage and free-throw percentage.

A four-year starting point guard who led the Tar Heels to back-to-back Final Fours, Ivory Latta was the 2006 ESPN.com, USBWA, Basketball Times and Gballmag.com National Player of the Year.

Latta was one of the most energetic and influential players in Carolina history. A 5-6 sparkplug from McConnells, S.C., Latta's teams compiled a four-year record of 121-17 that included three Atlantic Coast Conference championships, two Final Fours and an Elite Eight. Latta finished her career as UNC's all-time leading scorer, becoming just the second player in program history to earn consensus All-America honors two years in a row.

Latta also finished her career as the school's all-time leader in career three-pointers, three-point percentage and free-throw percentage.

As a sophomore, Latta emerged as one of the game's great playmakers, earning third-team AP All-America honors in 2005 to go with Kodak All-America honorable mention. She also led the Tar Heels to the 2005 ACC title, picking up Most Valuable Player honors in the process.

Latta guided Carolina to the 2006 Women's Final Four in Boston, the team's first appearance on the sport's grandest stage since Charlotte Smith's Tar Heels won the 1994 NCAA title. Latta was the 2006 ACC Player of the Year and earned first-team All-America accolades from the AP, Kodak/WBCA, ESPN.com, USBWA, Basketball Times, Gballmag.com and the Wooden Award committee.

Despite an offseason knee surgery, Latta was once again a consensus All-America performer in 2007. The senior bagged her third straight ACC Tournament MVP, making her the first player, male or female, to win that award three straight times.

Latta, who collected first-team All-America honors from the AP, Kodak/WBCA, USBWA and the Wooden Award committee, steered Carolina back to the Women's Final Four in Cleveland. While the Tar Heels fell in the national semifinal for the second time, Latta cemented her place as one of the greatest players in women's college basketball history.

ALL-AMERICA

Marsha Mann •1975

#44 • Marsha Mann

Marsha Mann was Carolina's first women's basketball All-America selection, by the National Women's Invitational Tournament in 1975.

Her senior season, 1974-75, was the first year in which the women's basketball team fell under the direction of the UNC athletic department. Mann paced the team in both scoring (17.0 points per game) and rebounding (9.8 per game) and led the Tar Heels to the NWIT in Amarillo, Texas. Under coach Angela Lumpkin, UNC went 1-2 there to finish the season 15-3.

Mann also competed for the United States team that won a silver medal at the 1973 World University Games.

#20 • Pam Leake

Pam Leake was a Kodak All-America selection in 1986 when she led the Tar Heels in scoring with 22.4 points per game, the highest season scoring average in school history. With 2,001 career points, she ranks fifth on UNC's career scoring list.

She earned ACC Player of the Year honors in 1985 and 1986 and is one of only six players to have been so named twice in their careers.

Leake holds Carolina's career mark for steals (401) and ranks third in assists (545). Her career scoring average of 16.14 ranks fifth on the school's all-time chart and she is also among the top 10 in field goal percentage.

Pam Leake • 1986

Bernadette McGlade •1980

#14 • Bernadette McGlade

Bernadette McGlade, Carolina's career leader in rebounds, was a National Women's Invitational Tournament All-America selection in 1980. She led the Tar Heels in rebounding in all four seasons she played for Carolina and finished with a school-record total of 1,251. Her career average of 10.3 rebounds per game is the best in UNC history.

#25 • Kathy Crawford

Kathy Crawford was a National Women's Invitational Tournament All-America selection in 1980. She ranks ninth in UNC history in scoring with 1,806 career points and also ranks 10th in scoring average (14.6 ppg) and fourth in field goal percentage (54.2). Her 1983 mark of 62.3 percent from the field is still the Carolina single-season school record.

#34 • Tonya Sampson

As a senior, Tonya Sampson earned Kodak All-America honors while leading the Tar Heels to the 1994 NCAA Championship. She paced the team in scoring in each of her four years, averaging a career-best 21 points per game in 1992-93. She graduated as Carolina's all-time leading scorer with 2,143 points, a total that was surpassed in 1998 by Tracy Reid.

Sampson was a member of the ACC's All-Freshman team in 1991, then earned All-ACC honors as a sophomore, junior and senior. She also earned All-ACC Tournament honors in 1994.

Sampson ranks in UNC's career top 10 in points, scoring average, total rebounds, rebounding average and steals. In addition to the Kodak team, Sampson was also named to the Basketball America and Basketball Times (third team) All-America squads.

Tonya Sampson • 1994

Tresa Brown • 1984

#24 • Tresa Brown

In 1984, Tresa Brown became the first UNC player to earn ACC Player of the Year honors.

She also earned Kodak All-America honors that season after helping the Tar Heels to a 24-8 record and the school's first conference championship. Brown, who was MVP of the '84 ACC Tournament, led Carolina in scoring (20.8 points), field goal per-centage (56.1) and free throw percentage (81.6) that season, her senior year. She also earned All-ACC honors.

Brown is second in career field goal percentage (54.7) and ranks sixth on Carolina's career scoring chart with 1,931 points. She also is among the school's top 10 in career scoring average, total rebounds and blocked shots.

#23 • Charlotte Smith

Charlotte Smith was Carolina's first National Player of the Year, earning the 1995 ESPY Award for her play during the 1993-94 season.

In 1995, Smith was named to the Kodak, Associated Press, USBWA and Basketball Times (second team) All-America teams. Smith currently ranks fourth in total career points, fifth in scoring average, ninth in field goal percentage, second in total rebounds, third in rebounding average and 10th in blocked shots at Carolina.

Charlotte Smith • 1994, 1995

Marion Jones •1997

#20 • Marion Jones

Marion Jones made an instant impact on the UNC program, helping the team to an NCAA championship as a freshman point guard. She averaged 14.1 points that season and in 1995 became the first Carolina sophomore to reach the 1,000-point mark.

Jones was 9-0 in Atlantic Coast Conference Tournament play as a member of championship teams in 1994, '95 and '97.

She was an All-ACC pick in 1995 and '97, and earned ACC Tourna-ment MVP and All-America honors from Basket-ball America in 1997. She was also a third-team selection by the Basketball Times and the AP.

Despite playing just three seasons, she ranks 14th all-time in scoring at UNC with 1,716 career points. She ranks third in career scoring average (16.8), fifth in field goal percentage (53.0), third in steals (334) and eighth in assists (403).

Tracy Reid •1997, 1998

#00 • Tracy Reid

The No. 2 scorer in Tar Heel history, Tracy Reid amassed 2,200 points during her career. She was selected as the ACC Player of the Year in her junior and senior seasons. She was named to the Kodak and AP All-America teams in both 1997 and 1998, becoming UNC's first two-time consensus choice.

Reid earned All-ACC honors in 1996, '97 and '98 after leading the conference in scoring for all three of those years. She was voted to the All-ACC Tournament team in 1997 and '98.

In addition to leading the program in points scored, Reid boasts the highest career scoring average (18.2), the sixth-highest field goal per-centage (52.8) and the fifth-highest rebound total (1,065). She and Charlotte Smith are the only UNC players to total more than 2,000 points and 1,000 rebounds in their careers.

LaQuanda Barksdale • 2001

#33 • LaQuanda Barksdale

LaQuanda Barksdale was Carolina's first All-American of the 21st century, getting the nod from the Women's Basketball News Service and the Women's Basketball Journal in 2001.

A two-time first-team All-ACC selection, Barksdale ranks sixth in career three-point percentage, eighth in total rebounds, eighth in rebounding average, sixth in free-throw percentage and 10th in assists in program history.

#12 • Ivory Latta

North Carolina's all-time leading scorer with 2,285 career points, Ivory Latta was also UNC's first three-time All-America selection and just its second two-time consensus pick. As a sophomore in 2005, Latta was chosen for the Associated Press third-team All-America list.

Latta became just the second Tar Heel to earn National Player of the Year honors in 2006, when she was named the country's top player by ESPN.com, USBWA, Basketball Times and Gballmag.com. In addition to those accolades, Latta was named to the AP, Kodak/WBCA, ESPN.com, USBWA, Basketball Times, Gballmag.com and Wooden Award All-America teams.

Latta repeated on the AP, Kodak/WBCA, USBWA and Wooden Award All-America squads as a senior in 2007.

#2 • Erlana Larkins

North Carolina's most dominant post player since Tracy Reid, Erlana Larkins was named to the State Farm (formerly Kodak), USBWA and Associated Press (second team) All-America team as a senior in 2008. That followed her selection to the AP third team in 2007.

One of the most versatile posts in women's basketball history, Larkins ranks among the Carolina career leaders in scoring (seventh), field goal percentage (second), total rebounds (third), rebounding average (sixth), steals (fifth) and blocked shots (seventh).

1994 NCAA NATIONAL CHAMPIONS

Charlotte Smith had to wait for the replay to watch the biggest shot in North Carolina women's basketball history fall through the net. She was the one who released it, just before time expired in the 1994 NCAA Championship game, but ultimately her line of vision was blocked.

"I didn't look at it," Smith said. "And the mob got me before I knew it had gone in."

That mob, made of her teammates, had good reason to be excited. Just three years earlier, when the seniors on that team were freshmen, North Carolina had finished at the bottom of the Atlantic Coast Conference. So to have hit those heights, hearing the program's and the conference's first NCAA title, was almost too much to believe.

The success had been building steadily. Since the 1991 season, when UNC finished 12-16 for its fourth consecutive losing season, the Tar Heels had to put together back-to-back 20-win campaigns. Sylvia Hatchell's team headed into the 1993-94 season with five returning starters and an outstanding freshman point guard named Marion Jones, who would go on to gain fame on the track.

First, however, Jones made an indelible mark at UNC in basketball. By the fourth game of the season, Jones was a starter, and she went on to set an ACC record for steals by a freshman. Joining her in Carolina's regular lineup were four experienced players: seniors Sylvia Crawley and Tonya Sampson, and juniors Stephanie Lawrence and Smith.

The Tar Heels opened the 1993-94 season with 11 consecutive wins and climbed to No. 4 in the country before falling at home to Virginia, 77-75 on Jan. 12. The Cavaliers would prove to be the only team to defeat UNC that season, winning again in Charlottesville on Feb. 9, 83-74.

There were a few other close calls though. At the ACC Tournament in Rock Hill, S.C., the defense stiffened to beat Clemson 65-64 and advance to the final. Having survived that scare, Carolina finally got the better of Virginia, 77-60, in the championship game to claim its first conference crown since 1984.

After advancing through first and second round NCAA Tournament games in Chapel Hill, UNC traveled to the East Regional at Rutgers. There, the Tar Heels beat Vanderbilt, 73-69, despite playing without Smith, who served a one-game suspension for fighting during the second round win against Old Dominion. Crawley picked up the slack with a season-high 22 points. An 81-69 victory against Connecticut put North Carolina in its first Final Four.

In Richmond, Va., UNC enjoyed its trip but didn't forget it was there to take care of business. The Tar Heels put on a dunking display at practice, then got serious and won easily in the national semifinal against Purdue, 89-74 to advance to the NCAA Championship game.

On April 3, Louisiana Tech led through most of the first half, but never by more than five. The Tar Heels trailed by two when they got the ball out of bounds on a possession arrow with a mere 00:00.7 showing on the clock. After two timeouts, Lawrence inbounded the ball into Smith on the right wing. The rest, as they say, is history.

"It makes it even more special to know that we came from the bottom to the top," Crawley said after the game. "This is the way I've always dreamed about it, and my dreams have finally come true."
